

What is the Wisconsin Circuit Court?

- The Wisconsin Circuit Courts are the main trial courts for civil and criminal cases in the Wisconsin court system.
- The circuit courts hear cases first in almost all civil and criminal matters in the state.
- They also hear cases appealed from Municipal Courts and from administrative hearings.
- Both state and county government fund circuit courts.

What do I need to know about circuit court judges?

There are 257 circuit court judges in Wisconsin.

At least one circuit court judge serves in each of the state's 72 counties.

Voters elect judges in nonpartisan elections to serve six-year terms.

Circuit court rulings impact many people in Wisconsin. Their rulings decide:

Family Law Disputes

Civil Rights

Disability Rights Including Guardianship and Civil Commitments

Voting rights

Labor rights

Public Safety

Further reading: <https://www.wicourts.gov/courts/circuit/index.htm>

How do you decide who to vote for?

1. Decide what you are looking for in a candidate

- What issues are important to you?
- What qualities do you want in a leader?
- Which candidate's judicial philosophies align with your values?

2. Learn about the candidates

- Visit their websites. Watch candidate forums and interviews. Visit VOTE411.org. Seek other nonpartisan sources for information.
- What are their qualifications?
- What are their judicial philosophies?
- What are their judicial records?

3. Sort it out

- Which candidate's judicial philosophies and views on the role of a judge best match your own views?
- Who seems most prepared for the job?
- Who has the leadership qualities you are looking for?